

In order to bring equipment across the border into the Russian Federation, mandatory certification is required by Russian law. You will require a GOST Russia Certificate of Conformity, or GOST-R COC.

COC's are mandatory for a wide range of goods and will be demanded by Russian customs, or by the Russian trade or industrial inspection authorities.

Gosstandart of Russia is the government administration charged with maintaining and enforcing this certification system. In line with the current European approach, the new Russian law offers options for conformity assessment covering mandatory certification, accreditation and self-declaration. Gosstandart has identified 14 areas of mandatory certification and 31 product categories.

G&M Compliance, Inc., through partnership with the leading One-Stop-Certification Center in St. Petersburg, offers its clients the most cost effective and time saving Russian certification for most product categories. G&M Compliance provides effective and friendly guidance through the entire certification process and advises clients on practical solutions for facilitating entry into Russian markets.

Safety

Service

Solution

It's Simple!

Product Categories include:

- Information Technology Equipment (ITE)
- Audio/Video Equipment
- Household Appliances
- Wireless and Wireline Telecommunication Equipment
- Scientific Instrumentation & Measurement Equipment
- Medical Equipment

Services and Benefits include:

- One-Stop-Certification Services
- Reduced Cost
- Time Savings
- Full Translation Services
- Guidance with GOST-R Laws and Regulations
- Full Service - Turn Key Russian Compliance Services
- Partnership with Russia's Leading Certification Center

Steps for Obtaining the GOST-R Mark:

1. Analysis of Requirements
2. Application for Certification and Preparation for Evaluation
3. Evaluation and Certification
4. Communication/Labeling Requirements
5. Factory Audits - if required

If you are looking for a compliance laboratory that can provide you with certification into the Russian Federation, or any other certifications, domestic or international, please visit our website or give us a call.

